Marmon Aerospace & Defense Breaks Ground on New Plant

New facility in Hooksett, New Hampshire to be completed in 2023

MANCHESTER, NH – May 2, 2022 – Marmon Aerospace & Defense, a Marmon | Berkshire Hathaway company, today announced it has broken ground on a new 80,000-square-foot manufacturing facility in Hooksett, New Hampshire.

Upon completion, by the fall of 2023, the plant is expected to bring an additional 20 production jobs to the area. The company will invest $30 million in the new facility, which will house a state-of-the-art manufacturing operation producing large shipboard power cables to support the U.S. Navy and its ship-building network.

The new operation will complement the company's current product line at its plants in nearby Manchester, New Hampshire, and in Naples, Florida.

"This new facility will broaden Marmon's military shipboard cable product offerings, which already include power, data, instrumentation, control, and communications cables," said Robert Canny, Marmon Aerospace & Defense Group president. "We are pleased to make this investment in service to our customers, our team, and our community."
