

Keeping Families Active, Engaged & Learning

With most schools and child care centers closing, you may need fresh ideas on how to help keep your family mentally and physically active at home. Our Health & Performance team has vetted trusted resources that are reliable, easy to use and do not require a subscription or membership. We encourage everyone to keep their minds active and engaged in the learning process.

Communicate with your kids—Parents, family members and trusted adults play an important role in helping children make sense of what they hear around COVID-19. By calmly providing accurate and age appropriate information, you can help minimize fears and feelings of anxiety while educating children about their risk. The following resources are available to help support these conversations.
